INNOVATIONS

Community Outreach: Includes hosting Open House events to promote stigma reduction and introduce treatment to rural communities. Outreach also includes targeting local media outlets such as newspapers, radio stations, movie theaters, and free public access TV channels. Community advertisement helps inform communities of the opioid epidemic and the services available.

Social Media: Activities include an official Facebook page for the Hub. Spokes are provided financial support to provide relevant information to their communities through their websites.

Electronic Medical Records System (PHASE): AegisConnect is a mobile app that will improve patient connections with medical staff. AegisConnect will allow patients to access a patient registration and authentication page; view upcoming appointments; join video counseling sessions with their caseload manager and consultations with medical providers; view lab results; send messages to caseload managers; receive appointment reminders; provide daily reports on withdrawal symptoms and other indicators; journal; send SOS alerts, which trigger immediate callbacks from support staff; and includes a low-bandwidth mode for those in areas where mobile data connections are not fully feasible.

Telehealth Provider App: The app will integrate information from existing patient records and allow medical providers to access patient information via smartphone or tablet. Providers will be able to create and sign new medication orders, approve take-home orders, send check-in messages to patients, start video counseling sessions, and more.
